

ST. MARY STUDENT PARISH

CATHOLIC CAMPUS MINISTRY AT THE UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN

MARCH 12, 2017
Second Sunday of Lent

2nd Sunday OF LENT

And he was transfigured before them; his face shone like the sun and his clothes became white as light. - Mt 17:2

TRY THE ASCETICISM OF TRUTH

Written by John F. Kavanaugh, S.J., professor of philosophy at St. Louis University in St. Louis, MO

For many of us, the default mentality in approaching Lent still seems to be giving up something. It is a vestige of the long and often wise tradition of bodily mortification, or asceticism. Yet spiritual wisdom figures tell us that asceticism of the ego is more important than the control of our bodily inclinations. We might have great constraint over our physical appetites and still be radically self-centered or deluded.

That is why, especially in the context of the sacrament of reconciliation, I often surprise a penitent with a penance of five minutes of solitude a day or a half-hour walk with a friend or family member every week or a weekly visit with marginal persons who make us uncomfortable. The discomfort factor usually motivates our avoidance of solitude, relationships and the world of wounded persons. In each of these arenas we have to exercise a discipline far more challenging than giving up something. It is the asceticism of truth, truths we would rather not face, even though they might set us free.

I count myself among those who long for quiet but seem unable to make time for it. We have so much to do—with e-mail and the news, radio and television, tasks and projects. Even when we have quiet, our minds buzz with plans and possibilities or regrets and replays. What are we when we are not performing or producing or, much worse, pretending and comparing ourselves to others? The simple truth can be daunting at first because it has little to do with action or comparisons. What is unique about each of us is the faith, hope or love we offer in risk to each other and to God. Perhaps that is why Jesus himself is so impressed by those who offer them.

And everyone, to be sure, hungers for relationship. Yet, paradoxically, the depth of relationship is frightening. In true intimacy we will be found out, our vulnerability revealed. Better to spend our time with games and pets that have no ego to daunt us. But if we have the courage to allow ourselves to be known, we will discover what it is to be loved for who we are—no longer haunted by the suspicion that others love not us but a pretense.

Finally, we face our deepest selves when we are willing to encounter persons who cannot pretend. The marginal, the very old and dying, the imprisoned, the deeply distressed, the profoundly handicapped, by whom we initially might be repelled, reveal the truth about ourselves that Ash Wednesday proclaims: we are fragile as dust. This truth, too, is not as terrible as it might seem at first.

The paschal mystery is the culmination of Jesus' full entry into the truth of our humanity, not only our dying and vulnerability but also our very sinfulness. If we have practiced the disciplines of truth, we will find not only our splendid gifts but our deepest wounds as well glorified.

DAN SCHUTTE

FRIDAY, MARCH 24 | 7:30 PM

Dan Schutte has been composing music for worship for more than 40 years. Many of his most celebrated pieces, including "Here I am, Lord," "City of God," and "Table of Plenty," come from his years of collaboration with the St. Louis Jesuits.

His more recent pieces still exhibit that enduring ability to reach into people's hearts and draw them into prayer. The music of Dan Schutte continues to be a part of the standard repertoire for Christian worship worldwide. He is one of the best-known, most prolific, and influential composers of Catholic music for the liturgy.

DP day is the largest day of service-learning at the University of Michigan and every year, around 1,000+ students and volunteers participate in various hands-on projects throughout the city of Detroit, from urban gardening, to clean up and demolition with a focus on community revitalization.

Volunteers will arrive at various sites in the morning and will work throughout the day before returning to Ann Arbor or other locations. Food and transportation will be provided---you don't want to miss this time for service and growing in community!
