Pastoral Perspective

UNITED WE STAND

By Patrick M. Casey, S.J.

As I write this, we do not yet know the results of the national elections. But by the time you read this the majority of races will have probably been decided. The campaign is over and now what was a divided nation must come together to face and overcome the problems that have existed and continue to exist in our world. None of these problems will be solved without a united effort to do so.

We will not be free of the virus until all accept it as a common enemy that must be attacked by all together. The second world war was not won until all the factions for and against it, came together. Poor and wealthy, farmer and city dweller, Catholics, Mormons, Jews, and Protestants, Democrat and Republican put aside their differences in order to combat the common enemy.

This is what must be done now. But not only against the virus, but also against all forces that cause sickness and death. Inequality, racism, a sense of superiority over others, all that stands in the way of true love and eventual salvation must be overcome; because all are common enemies that can destroy not only a nation, but humanity itself.

God did not send His son to die for a disjointed, bipolar humanity. Jesus came to extend the love of His father to all His brothers and sisters without exception, without any exclusion. He gave his life so that all of his father's daughters and sons could come home and live in union with their father, their common father, for all eternity.

So, now that the distraction of the elections is past us, let us put our sights on who we are and where we are going. The gospel of today's mass calls us to be prepared to receive the bridegroom. That means filling our hearts with the oil of love, mercy, and compassion which opens the door to true peace and happiness. It also means not being asleep or letting down our guard to the true values of humanity. We have to wake up to the fact that we are a family, that we need one another, that only together can we bring this world to salvation.

These ideas are not new, nor mine. Sacred Scripture has repeated them over and over again. Luke 11:17 "But he, knowing their thoughts, said to them, "Every kingdom divided against itself is laid waste, and a divided household falls." Mark 3:25 "And if a house is divided against itself, that house will not be able to stand." James 3:16 "For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there will be disorder and every vile practice." Colossians 3:14 "And above all these put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony." Galatians 5:15 "But if you bite and devour one another, watch out that you are not consumed by one another. 1 Corinthians 1:10 "I appeal to you, brothers, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that all of you agree, and that there be no divisions among you, but that you be united in the same mind and the same judgment.

Maybe we are still far from being able to agree on everything. But what we can and must do is express differences while maintaining respect and love for one another. If we do this, I think the "Bridegroom", will open the door, and invite us into the feast.

TREATMENT OF IMMIGRANTS THROUGHOUT U.S. HISTORY, CATHOLICS ALSO TARGETED

The United States has long been considered a nation of immigrants. Attitudes towards new immigrants have vacillated between welcoming and exclusionary over the years.

HERE ARE A FEW EXAMPLES:

1849-1860: The Know Nothing political party opposed immigrants, Irish and Germans at the time, and Roman Catholics. Party members harassed and spread political propaganda against their targets, all this to curtail any political influence of Catholics and immigrants.

1882: The Chinese Exclusion Act barred Chinese immigrants from entering the U.S. Anti-Chinese sentiments grew as Chinese laborers (only 0.002% of the U.S. population) became successful in America, yet white workers blamed them for their low wages.

1924: The National Origins Act excluded Asian and African immigrants, and severely reduced the immigration of Southern and Eastern Europeans, many of whom were Catholics.

1942-1964: The "Bracero Program" allowed Mexicans to enter the U.S. as temporary seasonal workers. Exposure of substandard work conditions and wage discrimination eventually led to the program's termination. American farmers, however, continued to recruit Mexican workers illegally.

1965: The Immigration and Naturalization Act was signed, eliminating the use of nationality as a selection factor for immigrants; admission was now based on family ties, desirable job skills, or education.

1986: The Simpson-Mazzoli Act was signed, granting amnesty to more than 3 million immigrants living illegally in the U.S.

2003: ICE (Immigration and Custom Enforcement) was created to enforce U.S. immigration laws.

2005-2014: Several comprehensive immigration bills stalled in Congress despite support from presidents Bush and Obama.

2012: Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) was approved which gives some undocumented youth work authorization and relief from deportation. This program does not provide legal status or a path to citizenship.

2017-2020: An attempt was initiated to end the DACA policy, and a proposal put forth to build a Border Wall with Mexico. In 2018, the Administration enacted a zero-tolerance policy for illegal border crossings, which led to mass detentions and the separation of children from their parents, hundreds of whom have yet to be reunited.

Many of us witness today the harmful cumulative effects that decades-long exclusionary immigration laws have had on our country's millions of undocumented brothers and sisters.

We have a choice as a nation to repeat the mistakes of our past with unwelcoming and restrictive immigration laws, or we can advocate for more sensible and humane immigration policies.

As followers of Christ, we are called to welcome and love the immigrant as ourselves. Please pray for our undocumented brothers and sisters and for more merciful immigration policies in the days ahead.

What can we do?

Please visit the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops' Justice for Immigrants website for information on how you can advocate for change. <https://www.usccb.org/offices/migration-policy/justice-immigrants>

A JAIL/PRISON MINISTRY CALL

SAT, NOV 14 | 9:30AM - 11AM

The Diocese of Lansing is hosting this session ONLY on Zoom /phone (thanks to the assistance from St. Francis Parish Ann Arbor).

Our presenter will be Father Matthew Palkowski, OFM Cap, who has been serving in the Philadelphia PA county jail system for about nine years. As you may expect, he has lots of experience and wisdom to share with us.

Please continue to pray for inmates, cut off from family visits and our spiritual support. Certainly, this is a very difficult time for them and a challenging time for the officers and staff as well. May the Lord show the way for us to serve our incarcerated brothers and sisters. For those who have died due to the pandemic, may they rest in peace. Blessings upon their families too!

Let us know if you plan to join us online. An RSVP is helpful for planning the discussion accordingly.
