The Bible: God's Word to Us.

BY FR. PATRICK CASEY, S.J.

Every Sunday we come together to worship our God at mass. The first part of the mass is the Liturgy of the Word in which we listen to God speaking to us through Sacred Scripture: the Bible. We might ask ourselves why is the Bible such a big part of the mass and what importance does it have for us?

Pope Francis has frequently spoken about the importance of the Bible:

"A Bible for every family! ...Not to place it on a shelf, but to keep it at hand, to read it often, every day, both individually and together, husband and wife, parents and children, maybe in the evening, especially on Sundays. This way the family grows, walks, with the light and power of the Word of God!"

"I would like so much for all Christians to be able to comprehend 'the surpassing worth of knowing Jesus Christ' through the diligent reading of the Word of God, for the sacred text is the nourishment of the soul and the pure and perennial source of the spiritual life of all of us."<sup>[1]</sup>

"The revival and renewal of Scripture studies since Vatican II has challenged us to reassess what we thought we knew, especially about Christianity's relationship to its environment, to other cultures, and particularly to Judaism."

For instance, this year we pray and study the Gospel of Matthew. We have done this before, each time we pass through Year A in the lectionary cycle. But we pray that as we read and study Matthew this year, we might learn more. This year may Matthew help us become more attuned to what the Spirit of God is telling us about the priorities of the Sermon on the Mount, the Mission Discourse, the parables of the Sowings and of the unjust and the righteous servants, and of the cautions and the hope of the end-time.

"We know we cannot be smug when we hear Jesus say that our righteousness must surpass that of the scribes and Pharisees (see Matt 5:20). We are likewise challenged that our righteousness must exceed what we think we hear from church leaders, and even what we have heretofore asked of ourselves. In fact, Matthew insists, we are not done until we imitate God in all we say and do, as the Sermon on the Mount demands (see Matt 5:48). It certainly is not difficult in today's world to see the needs of the crowds: some who follow Jesus, many who are skeptical and disbelieving, some who are hostile. We are challenged to hear and to listen to all, with ears and hearts filled with compassion and love—the basic ingredients of understanding."

Finally, although the experience of Peter and Cornelius is reported in the Acts of the Apostles (10:1-49) and not in Matthew, it is particularly enlightening to see the recognized leader of the church so willing to be open and transformed by the importuning, humility, questions, and acceptance of the potentially dangerous and hostile centurion, Cornelius, who was attracted to a church without boundaries. Matthew does not offer this particular image, but we can find in his Gospel some equally amazing ones that cause Jesus himself to open up to a stranger: examples include a centurion pleading for his slave (Matt 8:5-13), a foreigner like the Canaanite woman (15:21-28), and a tax collector named Matthew (9:9-13).

"Thus, we embark upon the New Year with resolution and hope, determined to listen and to respond with generosity and with kindness born of compassion."<sup>[2]</sup>

"Dear Families, listen to the word of God, meditate on it together, pray with it, let the Lord fill your lives with mercy."<sup>[3]</sup>

JOIN A SMALL GROUP FOR LENT!

If you generally give up something for Lent, you may also consider adding something too. Our Small Church Communities (SCCs) are a good way to share about God with others, and at the same time, gain a better understanding of scripture. SCC groups meet for seven weeks during Lent to look at the upcoming Sunday readings. Materials are provided with reflections and questions for thought and discussion. Groups meet at various times so you can pick one that fits your schedule. There are also some special topic groups, including one exploring Racial Justice using the "Just Faith" program.

Getting the chance to share, pray and reflect together can help you to see how the Word of God applies uniquely to your life. Groups begin meeting the week of Feb. 12 through April 2.

Questions? Contact rzyber@smspnewman.org

Please sign up by Feb. 7 at this link: shorturl.at/rwIP4

Please pick up a baptism class packet from the Parish Office at least one week prior to the class. You will need to bring this to class.

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION

WEDNESDAYS | 5:45 PM

"One cannot know the Lord without this habit of adoring, of adoring in silence. I believe, if I am not mistaken, this prayer of adoration is the prayer least known by us, it is the one we do the least", as if it were a "waste of time before the Lord, before the mystery of Jesus Christ". Instead, we should rediscover "the silence of Adoration: he is the Lord and I adore him."-Pope Francis

Eucharistic Adoration will be available each Wednesday in the Church from 5:45pm-9:00pm.

Please sign up as we are in need of 2 adorers per time slot. Thank you for supporting this ministry!
