PEOPLE FOR OTHERS!

HAPPY FEAST DAY, ST. IGNATIUS!

BY RITA ZYBER, RCIA COORDINATOR

The lives of the saints show us so much about self-sacrifice, and how God works through ordinary people (like all of us) to build a better world. One saint in particular, St. Ignatius of Loyola, is mentioned frequently around here.

Ignacio de Loyola, (1491-1556) is the founder of the Society of Jesus, the Jesuit order which leads our parish today. Though we are part of the Diocese of Lansing, we are fortunate to be inspired by the teachings of our Jesuit leaders. As we celebrate the Feast Day of St. Ignatius this week (July 31), we might focus on one particular Ignatian principle: “We are people for others.” It’s a thought that was emphasized 50 years ago by Pedro Arrupe, S.J. in his famous address, “Men for Others,” a motto that’s now been changed to be more inclusive.

Fr. Arrupe, the Superior General of the Jesuits in 1973, challenged Jesuit teachers and leaders to rededicate their mission—to form people who seek to do God’s will by living in a way that promotes justice for others. Basically, he reminded us that if we are living in true friendship with God, we will want to live as Christ taught us – understanding that the poor and the outcast have equal inherent dignity as children of God.

“Jesus makes these despised and marginalized folk his brothers. He identifies himself with the poor and the powerless, with all who are hungry and miserable. Every person in this condition is Christ’s brother or sister; that is why what is done for them is done for Christ himself,” Arrupe said in his address. “How can you love someone and treat him or her unjustly? You do not have love if the beloved is not seen as a person whose dignity must be respected, with all that that implies.”

The fact that we’re still struggling with an unjust world 50 years later shows us how hard this is. But Fr. Arrupe offers some suggestions. We must first strive to have “a basic attitude of respect for all,” and to never to use people as “instruments of our own profit.” We should not “be drugged by the comforts” of our own privilege,” which contributes to injustice.

And finally, we should have an attitude not just of refusal, but of “counterattack” against injustice. He calls this a solid decision “to work with others toward the dismantling of unjust social structures so that the weak, the oppressed, the marginalized of this world may be set free.”

And thankfully, St. Ignatius has given us a form of daily prayer (The Examen), that helps us to see where God is at work in our lives, and to evaluate how we can do better, every single day.

While Ignatius came to his holy state with human flaws, he stayed open to the movement of God in his life. He tried to remain free from his own agenda and attachments. Ignatius managed to go from being a vain and worldly soldier to becoming a priest, a saint, and one of our greatest spiritual teachers. In the world of Ignatius, God has hopes and dreams for each one of us and desires that we enter into a deep and fulfilling friendship with him.

If you’d like to learn more about Ignatius and his suggestions for prayer, Loyolapress.com has a variety of articles and videos on Ignatian Spirituality.

The Suscipe

Take, Lord, and receive all my liberty,
my memory, my understanding,
and my entire will,
All I have and call my own.
You have given all to me.
To you, Lord, I return it.
Everything is yours; do with it what you will.
Give me only your love and your grace,
that is enough for me.

(Prayer of St. Ignatius of Loyola)

EUCCHARISTIC ADORATION

WEDNESDAYS | 5:45 PM

“One cannot know the Lord without this habit of adoring, of adoring in silence. I believe, if I am not mistaken, this prayer of adoration is the prayer least known by us, it is the one we do the least”, as if it were a “waste of time before the Lord, before the mystery of Jesus Christ”.

Instead, we should rediscover “the silence of Adoration: he is the Lord and I adore him.”-Pope Francis Eucharistic Adoration will be available each Wednesday in the Thank you for supporting this ministry!
